

True Health New Mexico provider contracts to remain in effect through June 2023

July 15, 2022

Earlier this year, Bright HealthCare, True Health New Mexico's parent company, announced that they would no longer offer plans in some markets, including New Mexico. As a wholly owned subsidiary of Bright Health, True Health New Mexico will discontinue health insurance coverage in the state of New Mexico for both individual/family plans and employer group plans after plan year 2022. This means that True Health New Mexico will have some members whose coverages extend through June 30, 2023. Therefore, provider contracts will remain in effect until that date.

Providers and members can continue to expect the same level of commitment and service from True Health New Mexico as they have always received.
