

Your Experience Can Make a Difference

Panelist Recruitment

The Advisory Council on Quality (ACQ) is seeking self-advocates and family members/parents to participate in panel discussions during ACQ meetings. Panelists share real-life experiences, perspectives, challenges, successes, and ideas to help improve services and supports for people with developmental disabilities in New Mexico.

We are looking for people with lived experience, including:

- Self-advocates
- Family members/parents

What to Expect

- Approximately 5 guided questions
- About 30 minutes of panel discussion
- A 10–15 minute reflection session
- Panels are intentionally kept small and typically include no more than 3 panelists

We welcome experiences and perspectives from communities across New Mexico, including rural, urban, tribal, and frontier communities.

Interested?

To learn more or express interest in participating, please contact:

Kelley Harvey

ACQ Administrator

✉ kbethharvey@gmail.com

Your experiences, perspectives, and ideas matter.