NMPRC Seeks Public Comment Regarding New Mexico Gas Company's Rate Case

SANTA FE – The New Mexico Public Regulation Commission (NMPRC) is inviting consumers, stakeholders, and anyone else who may be interested in providing public comment regarding New Mexico Gas Company's (NMGC) current rate case during the Commission's next two open meetings on March 21 and March 28. During these meetings, there will be a designated period to provide public comment either in person or online via Zoom.

Last September, NMGC applied for approval of revisions to their rates, rules, and charges pursuant to Advice Notice no. 96 (case no. 23-00255-UT). In its application, NMGC proposed additional capital investments to enhance service reliability, meet growing demands, and other changes, including an increase in access fees for some customers and conversion of a Weather Normalization Adjustment Mechanism from a pilot program to a regular program. These proposed adjustments aim to recover costs related to these investments and other operational improvements.

To sign up to provide comments online, send an email to public.comment@prc.nm.gov or call 505-490-7910 by 5 p.m. the day prior to the meeting. It is not necessary to sign up to provide comments in person. If you are unable to provide comments during any of the scheduled open meetings, you may also submit a written statement regarding a specific case number to prc.records@prc.nm.gov.

The Commission will also hold a separate Public Comment Hearing for this case at a later date.

Read a copy of the agenda for the March 21 regular open meeting here. The "Public Comment" section toward the bottom of the agenda provides additional information about how members of the public may provide public comment during open meetings.

*The New Mexico Public Regulation Commission (NMPRC) serves New Mexico by ensuring safe operations and reliable utility services at fair, just, and reasonable rates consistent with the State's legal, economic, environmental, and social policies.
